"I am here to serve my clients by listening to their needs. By focusing on the specific details of my client's problem, I am able to efficiently achieve their desired results in the most cost-effective manner."

About Jonathan

A Baltimorean with a love for crabs and home-brews, Jonathan brings a passionate and energetic personality to the firm. His primary areas of practice include civil litigation and construction law with a focus on contract disputes, title insurance defense and administrative law. With extensive experience in Construction Law, Mr. Novak is able to proactively navigate the issues involved in complex construction disputes, and litigation matters. In addition, Jonathan has experience handling multiple title insurance defense matters, representing mortgage services and mortgage lenders in real estate and title claims litigation.

Prior to his work in construction law and insurance defense, Mr. Novak worked for the U.S. Department of Justice, Drug Enforcement Administration and is versed in Federal Administrative Law, as well as Government representation during federal litigation surrounding controlled substance regulation, policy and compliance.

Dedicated and inspired, Jonathan engages with his clients to ensure all of their goals are reached through resolute representation. Whether in court or through direct communication, he is here to act on behalf of his clients' and counsel them to the best of his ability to ensure protection of their rights.

Out of the office, Jonathan can be found spending time with his nieces and nephew and cooking French cuisine inspired by Julia Child.
